

SEASON OPENS AT HEDDING TOMORROW

Interesting Program Arranged for the Chautauqua Meeting by Officers.

The Chautauqua season of Heddington Campground will open Sunday and close August 23. As usual it will be marked by a succession of interesting events.

Next Monday evening will bring the Heddington reunion with entertainments and refreshments. Evening entertainments will include a children's concert August 12, a minstrel show August 16, and a performance by the Heddington Dramatic Club August 20. There will also be two concerts by Boston singers. The annual bazaar of the Ladies' Auxiliary will be held August 19. There will be a track meet August 21, a tennis tournament with the finals August 16, and several ball games.

Rev. Joseph Simpson of Rochester will preach on August 10, and the Academic sermon will be preached on the following Sunday by Rev. Leon Morse of Somersworth. Beginning August 10 morning watch will be held daily.

The officers of the Chautauqua Association are William O. Ramaden of Byfield, Mass., president; Chester H. Caruth of Roxbury, Mass., E. S. Riley of Lawrence, Mrs. H. M. Jones of Steelford, Mass., W. G. Collier of Boston, vice-presidents; Miss Lydia A. Brewster of Exeter, secretary, George N. Palmer of Melrose, Mass., treasurer.

After Five Weeks Work Democrats of House Banking and Currency Committee Order Bill Closed

Washington, August 1.—Consideration of the administration currency bill was practically concluded tonight by the Democrats of the House Banking and Currency Committee after more than five weeks of constant and stormy discussion. The bill was ordered closed and reprinted and on Monday the Democratic committee members will take a formal vote on recommending the measure to the Democratic caucus with the approval of at least three members of the committee. It was practically certain tonight.

Differs Little in Essentials

As closed tonight, the bill differs little in its essentials from the administration measure framed by Representative Glass, Chairman of the Committee, and approved by President Wilson. The complete government control of the federal reserve board which will direct the new banking and currency system deemed by the President the all-important factor of the bill, was retained. At the 11th hour, however, the Democratic members of the committee incorporated in the bill an amendment providing for an advisory board of bankers to advise the federal reserve board. This amendment was in the nature of a compromise.

GEN. CHAMPLIN DEPRIVED OF HIS VOTE

Because He Passed the Summer at Rye He Loses Cambridge Residence.

The former mayor of Cambridge has been dropped from the voting list of that city because he passes the summer at Rye Beach, and part of the winter in the Hotel Somerset, Boston.

General Champlin has been a prominent figure in state politics for several years. He has maintained a voting residence at 5 Dana street, Cambridge, for many years.

It remained for the assessors and registrars of Cambridge to deprive General Champlin of a voting residence. In the spring of this year when the assessors went their rounds they did not record the general as they used to as living at 5 Dana street. So it was when the registrars rectified their lists they had to drop the name of Edgar R. Champlin because he was not assessed.

UNFAVORABLE TO CALLING WILSON

His Appearance Before Committee Not Thought Advisable as it Might Cause Aggravation

Washington, August 1.—Development in the Mexican situation today were confined to efforts on the part of the administration to prevent unnecessary agitation over the revolution. So far as the United States is concerned both the Federal and Congressionalists are complying with the desire of the American government for the protection of foreigners and their belongings and there is a hopeful feeling manifested in official circles that efforts of influential Mexicans to bring about peace may be successful.

In the meantime President Wilson and his advisers are opposed to any attempt to force the American government into an declaration of policy. Secretary Bryan promptly denied today a story that European governments are pressing the United States to action. On the authority of the President himself it is known that the only document from foreign powers to the United States on the subject in recent months were those transmitted when the diplomatic representative in Mexico City recently gave a description of conditions in the republic to their home government, with the request that the information be communicated to the United States.

The President has told four inquiries within the past 24 hours that in no case was there any suggestion or intimation of action desired, but merely a recital of conditions. To prevent any aggravation of the situation which in the view of officials here is slowly adjusting itself, the administration it became known does not look favorably on the proposal to have Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson appear before the House committee on foreign affairs, because the feeling is growing among them that he is a factor in promoting objectionable discussion in Mexico.

News was scarce in Mexico, circling about the progress of the peace negotiations, that are passing to and from between some leaders of the two factions in Mexico. The most significant development was the frequent use of the name Miguel Covarrubias, present Mexican minister to Russia for provisional president.

FLANAGAN WINS FIRST MARATHON

Many Spectators Witness Four-Mile Race Between Local Runners.

Over five hundred spectators were at the Sherburne road on Friday evening to witness the fast marathon between two well known young athletes, J. Flanagan and P. Reagan. For several weeks the runners have been training for the run and side bets as to the result were plenty. The point was for four miles and a large number of bicycles, wagons and autos accompanied the men over the course. The road was exceedingly bad owing to the dust which almost blinded the runners. The presence of these vehicles did much to interfere with the runners. Both men started off well, Flanagan getting the lead in the first hundred yards. He kept a steady pace until 1.3 of the run was made. At the Greenland road Flanagan put on steam and gradually slipped away from his opponent. When the tape was reached he was 200 yards in the lead of Reagan. Both men finished fresh as a daisy and could easily add few more miles to the run.

It was a fine exhibition of sprinting and several fast marathon men were delighted with the match. Flanagan covered the distance in 23 minutes and 10 seconds.

The race was for $50 a side and considering the heated rivalry everything passed off without a hitch. Flanagan was given a great ovation at the finish as 75 per cent of the spectators had picked Reagan to win. Both men showed a lot of endurance and were cheered all along the course. Much credit is due D. J. Kelley, Flanagan's trainer who certainly had his man looking like a second Alfred Shrubb.

CONG. TRIBBLE SAYS HE WAS MISQUOTED IN HIS POSITION ON SOUTHERN YARDS

The Herald, in the course of an article on the Portsmouth Navy Yard, referred to Congressman Tribble as being in favor of abandoning southern yards. The following letter gives his position on that matter:

House of Representatives U. S. Committee on Naval Affairs.

Washington, D. C., July 31, 1913.

Portsmouth Daily Herald, Portsmouth, N. H.

Dear Sir—Your issue of July 22, quoting me in a statement in regard to Southern navy yards in as far from being the fact as it can possibly be. The Record shows that I am not in favor of abandoning Southern navy yards.

Yours very truly,

S. J. TRIBBLE.

STILL ALARM.

Blaze at the Back Door of the Veteran Fireman.

A still alarm this forenoon called the chemical engine and crew to the North Cemetery, where a grass fire was in lively progress in the center of the grave yard. The fire was close to the door of the Veteran Fireman's house, but outside of Chief Mounsey, none of the famous fire fighters were seen battling the flames. It is safe to say that had the fire been discovered when the vets were in their camp there would have been no need of any alarm or any need of the chemical.

RAILROAD NOTES

The Boston and Maine railroad has erected posts in the lot of Vaughan street to prevent traffic of vehicles to Depot avenue. In the future only passengers to and from the electric cars can pass through.

Announcement has been made of two changes and promotions in the Haven and Boston & Maine railroads, taking effect today. Robert H. Newcomb, heretofore head of the Boston office of the New Haven publicity department, will be transferred to the Boston & Maine. Howard A. Moulton has been promoted to take Mr. Newcomb's place. Mr. Moulton will remain in the South station office rooms and Mr. Newcomb will remove to the North station.

Ninety-six per cent of the trainmen and conductors on the Pacific division of the Southern Pacific have voted to strike unless terms of employment on electric lines are adjusted.

Commencing on Monday next the Boston & Maine freight office at Concord will close daily at 5 p. m.

Following the death of A. S. Hanson, general passenger agent of the Boston & Albany, W. A. Barrows for the past few months assistant general freight agent of that road, has been appointed its general passenger agent. Mr. Barrows has been in the Albany service about 22 years, having risen through various offices in the traffic department.

Alfred B. Allen, chief clerk in the traffic department since 1906, and who has been connected with the Albany for a score of years, has been elected to succeed Mr. Barrows.

PASTORAL PLAY PLEASED LARGE AUDIENCE

Miss Heffenger Is Warmly Complimented Upon Her Production.

Portsmouth has much to be proud of in its many talented daughters, but few have done more to give pleasure than Miss Mary Stearns Heffenger, whose magic pen transported a party from the court of Louis XIV to the garden of the home of the Colonial Dames on Friday afternoon in her charming pastoral, "En Jour d'Ete," which was presented before a large and enthusiastic audience, over two hundred being in attendance.

Surely no more beautiful and appropriate spot could have been selected than this romantic garden with its fountain, terraces, arbors, fruits and flowers, and haunted by the most delicious dream, the very incarnation of life and joy, whose delightfully graceful dancing charmed all. This play, Miss Priscilla Stearns Heffenger, frightened away by the arrival of the party from the court, impersonated by Mrs. Austin Kautz, Miss Frances Wendell, Mrs. Winslow Pierce, Miss Elizabeth Conledge, and their escorts, Miss Helen Laighton, Miss Frances Heffenger, Miss Marjorie Billinger, and Miss Esther Turner, followed by the Duchess, her granddaughter, the Old Beau, and the Lonely Lady, a merry party, with the exception of the Lonely Lady who bears the attractions of the Old Beau, in left to weep alone. The Old Beau, impersonated by Miss Isabelle Foster, consoled himself with the Duchess who graciously consents to dance a stately waltz dance.

The arrival of the shepherd and shepherdess with her lamb interrupts the merry-making. While the shepherd and shepherdess are engrossed with each other, the lamb, neglected, escapes and is captured by the little granddaughter of the Duchess, Miss Elizabeth Stearns, who was delightful in her impersonation. The lamb was a happy addition to the cast and was loaned by the Reverend I. J. Merry of Kittery.

Much talent was displayed by all who participated and Miss Isabelle Foster, who took the role of the Old Beau, deserves special mention, her dramatic expression being most remarkable, especially pronounced in the scenes when he is awakened by the Duchess, and in the happy denouement, when, with youth restored, in at last recognized by the Lonely Lady as her affinity. The Lonely Lady was impersonated by Mrs. C. A. Harrington.

whose beauty and talent contributed in no small measure to the success of the production. Miss Eleanor Gooding and Mrs. Arthur Rice displayed very delicate and graceful art in portraying the shepherd and shepherdess.

Miss Florence Marshall played the piano accompaniment to the solo dancing. Music was furnished by Messrs. Hoyt and Dawd, violinists, Mr. Goddard, flute, Mr. Glendon, cello, accompanied by Miss Marshall, pianist.

The beauty and rich coloring of the costumes, the skillful staging of the Wattle groups, the fascination of the old garden, all contribute to a picture which will linger long in the memory of those who were privileged to be present.

Refreshments of tea, cakes and crackers were served after the performance. Many visitors from the surrounding summer resorts were present. Much of interest was found in the rooms of the historic mansion and its invaluable collection.

Miss Mary Stearns Heffenger, who wrote and staged the play and arranged the costumes, was showered with congratulations at the conclusion of the performance, while prophesies of future distinction for her were heard on all sides.

MUST FUMIGATE CARS. In Case of Contagious Diseases on Railroad.

The discovery of a case of contagious disease recently among the passengers of a Boston & Maine train caused the management to put the question up to the legal department of the road as to the duties of employees in the premises. The ruling has been made that in such cases the car should be drawn to the nearest available point, sidetracked and the local board of health notified. In the event that it is necessary to take the car to the terminal, it must be cleared of passengers and on release from quarantine must be thoroughly fumigated.

POLICE NEWS.

The police in investigating the case relative to the baby being left on the steps of the convent learned today that more than one resident in that vicinity saw the woman with the baby between 8.30 and 9 o'clock on Friday night. She is described as a short stout person and was dressed in black. The officers believe that wherever she was she came from outside the city.

Ralph Corbett, Arthur Waite, and John Eaton, three boys from Lynn, who were in the gang that broke into the Benfield store on Austin street were bound over in the sum of $200 each in the district court on Friday. They failed to get bail and went to jail. Their parents at Lynn are attempting to secure the necessary bail money.

CARRIED MANY PASSENGERS

The steamer Juliette, with her very capable, courteous and attentive Captain O. W. Crowley, carried from Portsmouth to the Shoals during the month of July 6388-passengers. It is a very comfortable boat and the lands are as attractive as ever. The trip is a very pretty one, and is not expensive. If you wish only an ocean ride you can take it and return between the hours of 8 a. m., and 10.30 p. m. for only 40 cents.

Mrs. Crowley, then wife of the captain has come to spend the season at the Oceanic, and travels over the route with him as she pleases, and makes herself very agreeable to the lady passengers.

Y.M.C.A. TAKE ANOTHER GAME

Sheehy Pitched a Heady Game and Boys Have Their Batting Eye Out.

The Y. M. C. A. won their second game this week, when on Friday evening in a postponed game with the Sports they defeated them by a score of 6 to 2. The boys had their eye on the ball and Kabakka who served them up at first was easy money, but Hoffman who followed was more effective. Sheehy, who pitched to a win was again on the firing line and he was very effective allowing but four hits, and the boys were never in danger.

The Game in Detail.

The Young Men were up and Ralph Brackett shot one to Hoffman who was out at first. C. Brackett singled to second, Marden followed suit advancing him to third and he scored on Howard's single through second, and Marden trying for the plate was thrown out via Canack Wiscomb to Frederick, Howard taking third on the play and scoring when Palmer shot one through third. W. Brackett was thrown out by Lawrence.

Lahen was safe on Marden's wild heave to first, but was forced at second on Frederick's hit to M. Howard. Frederick was thrown out stealing and Kabakka retired the side with fly to C. Brackett.

SECOND INNING

Timmons drew a pass. He was advanced when Wright also drew from transposition. Sheehy hit to Caffery who fumbled long enough for all to be safe. R. Brackett hit to Lawrence who forced Timmons at home. C. Brackett filed to Lahen and Wright went in on the throw. Marden singled over second the ball taking a hard bound and Sheehy scored and C. Brackett was caught going home. Hoffman to Frederick.

Hoffman led off with a single over third, the stole second, and Wiscomb was thrown out by Palmer. Sheehy covering the bag, Hoffman taking third on the play. He scored on Lawrence's single to left. Caffery singled to left advancing him to second. While hit to Sheehy who threw to first but Palmer missed it and Lawrence went in third. Canack struck out, and Lahen retired the side. Marden to Palmer.

THIRD INNING

Howard was on with a hit through short, he advanced on Palmer's being passed, and scored when Senior Brackett singled to right. Timmons thought it was a good spot and dropped another in the same place, scoring Palmer. Hoffman took the ball and he struck out Wright and Sheehy and passed R. Brackett, but struck out his brother Charles.

Frederick went out, Howard to Palmer, Kabakka on a fly to Howard, Hoffman was passed and Wiscomb hit C. Palmer who beat him to the bag.

FOURTH INNING

Marden struck out, Howard rolled one to Kabakka, who retired him at first, Palmer singled, but was thrown out trying to steal second. Frederick to Kabakka.

The soldiers were out in order. Lawrence and Caffery on grounders to C. Brackett and Welk fanned.

FIFTH INNING

Gibson who batted for C. H. Brackett fanned and Timmons followed suit. Wright was hit and stole second, but Sheehy fanned.

Canack singled over third, went to second when Gibson dropped Lahen's fly in right to third on Frederick's out.

Howard to Palmer and scored when Kabakka hit to Marden who retired him at first. Hoffman was safe on Marden's error and Wiscomb went out the same route Marden to Palmer.

Larned, the Christy Matthewson of Tennis, Ready for National Championship Games

PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Newport, July 2.—Tennis cracks may come and tennis cracks may go, but William A. Larned plays on forever. Larned in baseball terms is the Christy Matthewson of tennis. Though one of the oldest veterans in the game he retains much of his dash and skill and is expected to make a good showing in the national championship games which will begin here Aug. 16. Recently he showed that he was rounding into form for the national championships when he and Beals C. Wright at Boston defeated those two brilliant members of the younger set, Raymond H. Little and Theodore Roosevelt Pell in the Longwood doubles match. Larned opines that he will again capture the national title at Newport this year. Players from the Pacific coast—McLaughlin, Bundy and Johnson—will battle against Larned and other eastern stars.

FAST GAME PROMISED

An All Star base ball team from the Sunset League is to meet the P. A. C. at the play ground this afternoon in a nine inning game. The P. A. C. will have Weare and Wilbur for a battery and the All Stars will have J. Haggart, formerly of the Braconet and Portland New England teams, for a pitcher and Ralph Brackett will match. Haggart is visiting friends in this city and with him in the box it should be a very fast game. The other members of the All Stars will be: Paul Best, Hoffman second, Hofferman short, Cragen third, Hanson left, Mates center, and Howard right.

EVELYN THAW IS BANKRUPT

Files Voluntary Petition in Federal District Court—Assets $250.

New York, August 1.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, Harry K. Thaw's wife, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the federal district court here this afternoon. Her liabilities she schedules as $8,054; her assets as $250, represented by household furniture. Her chief creditors she states are a woman's tailoring establishment to whom she owes $3,864 for gowns and a firm of silversmiths, who recently obtained a judgment of $2,560 against her.

WANTS COAL DEALERS
TRUST INVESTIGATED

Washington, Aug. 1.—Investigation by Congress of the general conduct of the hard coal producing business in Pennsylvania was asked today by Mr. Murray of Massachusetts, in a resolution introduced in the House. The departments of Commerce and Labor and the Interstate Commerce Commission are asked to submit all information in their possession relating to: Capitalization, ownership and control of the Pennsylvania anthracite mines.

Intercompany relationship of coal and transportation companies. Comparative freight rates of coal and other commodities.

Revenues, expenses and profits of anthracite carrying railroads. Wholesale and retail prices of mines, distributing points and principal cities.

"I have introduced this resolution," said Mr. Murray, "because I believe information exists sufficient to show the full effects of one of the most complete monopolies of a necessity of life that ever has existed, and to point out the way by which Congress may act to remove at least a part of the evils and thus strike at least one blow direct at the high cost of living.

"I have every reason to believe that there now is in the executive departments enough data to show that more than 90 per cent of the available anthracite and between 85 and 90 per cent of the anthracite shipped yearly is of the control of the seven railroad systems which form the only means of transporting the coal to market. These roads are so bound together by common interests, by interlocking directorates and by agreements of various kinds that they act as a unit in controlling the price of anthracite coal."

The Department of Justice has been conducting an independent investigation for some time.

PRONOUNCED DOGS
ILL WITH RABIES

Dr. Chestly, the state veterinarian, was here on Friday afternoon in consultation with Dr. C. E. Johnson, Chairman of the Board of Health and he examined a dog of Andrew Callaghan, which has been under observation for several days, and pronounced the animal a case of rabies. He stated that there was no doubt in his mind but what the animal was afflicted and said the disease would kill him in a few hours. He went over the other cases with Dr. Ingles who discovered the first case and said that there was no doubt but when the disease was prevalent among dogs here and that in his opinion the order of the Board of Health ordering dogs muzzled was a wise precaution. The Harvard Laboratories, to which the head of the Wood dog was sent for examination are expected to give an answer today.

At the present time there is no order in effect, as the Mayor and Council neglected to approve the order of the Board of Health and they alone have the power to make such an order. Col. Harry Cilley of Newcastle this week lost two fine dogs, from a disease, which Dr. Ingles is confident was the rabies.

A wise precaution is for owners of dogs to keep them confined to their property, until the source of the disease is found and disposed of.

PAY OFFICERS NOT RESPONSIBLE.

An agreement has been reached between the officials of the Navy Department and the accounting officers of the Treasury Department to relieve the situation caused by the recent act of Congress requiring proof of citizenship of enlisted men. The Comptroller of the Treasury has advised Mr. F. D. Roosevelt, the acting Secretary of the Navy, that if orders are issued to paymasters of the navy to repay to enlisted men all amounts that heretofore have been collected from or checked against their pay on account of inability to prove citizenship under general order No. 84, such men having been enlisted or reenlisted by officers of the navy as American citizens, and that pay officers shall make no further payments for the past, present or future services under that order to those who cannot furnish proper proof of citizenship, such orders will be accepted by the Treasury Department and pay officers will not be held responsible for this class of payments heretofore made for services rendered prior to July 1 last.

Mrs. Thayer, wife of Hon. William F. Thayer of Concord, was stricken with paralysis on Friday afternoon while attending the garden fete at the Colonial Dames grounds. She was removed to her home at Rye North Beach.

CANAL BEING FINISHED---LABOR
IN EXCESS

Washington, Aug. 1.—The chief quartermaster of the Panama Canal Zone has advised the authorities in the various West Indian Islands, whence the principal supply of labor was drawn for the construction of the Canal, that the work is drawing to a close and that at present there is no market for labor on the isthmus.

Heretofore the Canal authorities have been obliged to guard jealously their imported labor from the Indians advanced of private persons and corporations seeking recruits for plantation and development work.

Now, however, these agents will be notified of the excess labor in the Zone and will be permitted to recruit, subject to restrictions designed to protect the rights and conditions of the laborers.

The so-called civil employees, who would into the Zone under contracts will be sent back to their island homes upon request.

MUST HAVE ALL BEEN GOOD SHOTS

New York, Aug. 1.—While 30 policemen, under Capt. Scrobel of the Mercer street station, stood with drawn revolvers on the roofs and fire escapes surrounding the six-story loft building at 544 West Broadway today, detectives Conroy and Botti crept down the scuttles of the building and made their way to the second floor, where they found four men preparing to blow open the safe of Garfenzang Brothers, feather dealers.

The four burglars turned and fired point blank at the detectives and then fled up the stairs. The instant their heads showed above the scuttles the 30 policemen shouted to them to throw up their hands. They did not stop an instant, however, and the policemen opened fire.

With bullets raining about them, the burglars ran to the edge of the roof, and after hanging on the eaves a moment, dropped 40 feet to the roof of a three-story building at 546 West Broadway. The policemen and the two detectives who had gained the roof by this time, kept shooting, and as the four scrambled to their feet on the roof below they drew their revolvers and returned the fire.

After a number of shots had been exchanged, the burglars fled, for a fire escape and started to climb down. One of them fell and was caught on a picket fence, where he was captured after a fight. His three companions, their ammunition exhausted, surrendered soon afterward. The prisoners are all Italians.

When interrupted the thieves had thousands of dollars worth of feathers packed up ready to carry off.

The Smoker's Responsibility.

Attention has been called again all over the country to the cigarette and cigar stub and the flaming match as fire perils by the items in the news columns attributing the Binghamton holocaust, like the Triangle fire of two years ago, to the carelessness of some smoker. Obviously it is impossible to present a statistical demonstration of the loss of property and of life by fire for which the thoughtless smoker may be responsible. Fires become conflagrations because they are not discovered until they have gained such headway as to baffle the fire departments. Often their origin is uncertain. But when investigations are made by experienced men the news readers know that very many are attributed to the careless habits of some cigar or cigarette smoker.

The fire peril is always with us and the fire hazard must be lowered by every possible means. Probably the greater number of smokers are reasonably careful. From time to time we notice with satisfaction the care with which a smoker makes sure that his match or his cigar stub is extinguished before he throws it aside. But there are unquestionably very many smokers who, because either of thoughtlessness or indifference, take no precautions whatever. They are a serious fire hazard.

Two things should be done. Smokers should be educated in the necessity of caution always and everywhere. And smoking might very properly be prohibited by law in certain places. We understand that in New York the fire commissioner's investigations showed that 3000 fires a year were caused by the smoking of workmen in lofts, shops, storerooms and department stores, and that he caused all these places to be placarded with a warning that smoking would be punished by fine, imprisonment or both. Such a law may be hard to enforce, but the warning in itself should prevent a lot of fires. —Boston Journal.

Mr. McAdoo's Mistake.

If we have to take our choice between a Secretary of the Treasury whose sympathy with the people leads him to do an injustice to the bankers and a Secretary of the Treasury whose sympathy with the bankers leads him to do an injustice to the people, we certainly prefer the former alternative. But we do not believe that either is necessary. Mr. McAdoo's charge that the great bankers of New York were deliberately selling government 2 per cent. bonds to depress the price and discredit the administration currency measure does not seem to be borne out by the facts. On the contrary, it appears that the one large amount of such bonds which were sold "short" by a stock exchange house were bought by the City Bank. Reckless accusations like these are exceedingly unfortunate for the refutation of one such charge may easily discredit a dozen valid charges later on. —New York World.

To Educate Children How to Avoid Accidents.

Some few months ago we advocated editorially the advisability of teaching the school children how to avoid accidents. Now comes the Chicago school board with an order to educate the school children how to avoid auto accidents. A dispatch says:

"Confronted with an alarming total of fifteen children killed while at play in streets by automobiles this month, a plan was launched by the school authorities today to teach children in the schools how to avoid machines. Peter Reinberg, president of the Board of Education, announced that he would bring the matter up at the next meeting of the board. He advocates a daily lesson on the grave dangers attendant upon carelessness in crossing streets and the giving of instruction on traffic regulations and when and how to cross thoroughfares. County Coroner Peter Hoffman and A. F. Ray, president of the Chicago Automobile Club, also announced that they favored the plan and urged its adoption."

President Wilson's Position Endorsed.

President Wilson's position on the Mexican situation will attract many supporters. He is against recognition of the men who murdered President Madero and so is this newspaper. The question is what should be done to restore order in Mexico. Is it by first recognizing Huerta? If it is, then it should be promptly done; if not, what is the procedure? The American people are demanding action.

New England and South America.

The work of the Boston Chamber of Commerce in its movement for trade extension with South America has progressed most satisfactorily. All that Boston now has to do is to dig down for cash to operate steamship lines to the ports. There should be no delay in this and New England ought to help. We hope in time to see Boston broaden out and also her people.

A PLEA IN BEHALF OF GREENACRE

Well Laid Plans to Secure Place for a Pagan Temple.

Editor—Americans as a rule have little comprehension of and less sympathy with the "Holy Wars" or the Orient. Yet does Britain New England realize that a "Holy War" instigated by one of these same un-American, incomprehensible Orientals, is now being waged in our very midst?

Abdul Baha, the Persian leader of a sect called Bahaism, which is said to be a sort of reformed Mohammedanism, came to America last summer. He was invited to visit Greenacre. He looked upon it and decided that it was good. This year no more has been left unturned by his fanatical followers to seize Greenacre, turn it over to their worshipped "Master," before whom we are told some of them actually prostrate themselves, and make of it a "Baha Center."

Their methods to that end are such as would bring a blush of shame to a Tammany "boss." Tammany Hall, its worst enemies would admit, has never learned the clever trick of manipulating its affairs in the name of peace and love and God.

In response to a private circular sent out some months ago to "Bahais only," these people are now quietly gathering at Bhat on the shores of the swift flowing Piscataqua, where Miss Farmer established her Greenacre with its universal platform. They religiously may away from all lectures and contribute nothing toward the support of the conference now being carried on by the committee co-operating with Miss Farmer. The object of this gathering is to "pack" the annual meeting to be held August 11, and carry it for Abdul Baha and Bahaism.

This private circular to "Bahais only" is a most precious and interesting document. It begins with a long quotation from Abdul Baha which is a call to arms to the faithful to be up and doing regarding this "most delightful spot, Greenacre," with its twenty thousand dollar legacy which he found so "charming" and desirable last summer.

"Greenacre at this juncture," he says "needs a superior general, a wonderful commander, a general that can weather the forces of darkness and tradition. An army without a general cannot achieve signal victories. Greenacre must carry this path of victory. The trustees must let these wonderful opportunities slip out of their hands."

Then as if to indicate who this "wonderful commander" is whom he refers really to, he says: "If you believe me, I will come again to Greenacre." Then the private circular goes on to say: "On a greater incentive be given us for this work than these inspiring words of Abdul Baha? Now what shall the measure of our devotion be?" It answers its own question by saying: "With the purpose of making possible this splendid service (to Abdul Baha) it is proposed to amend the by-laws at the annual meeting August 11, 1913."

Then this circular (to Bahais only, remember), leaving out of the plan all other members of the old Fellowship, undoubtedly and with an apology, for it is not all done for Abdul Baha and God—outlines its precious scheme for the purchase of votes: "Fifty cents for membership. When friends can give more, e.g. ten dollars, let twenty membership blanks be signed by twenty different friends who, if unable to be present, can vote by proxy, and thus secure the necessary votes to elect the Board of Nine (Greenacre Trustees) in Bhat board."

This private circular is signed by Alfred E. Lunt, a Boston lawyer, and Edward H. Kinney, a New York music master and well-known lun-heeper, both Bhat leaders.

The reason for the rush to secure Greenacre and its twenty thousand dollar legacy, which many suspect to be the real milk in the coconut, is that Miss Farmer has recovered her mental health and is on the road to the recovery of her physical health. Therefore, next year it is expected that she herself may appear on the scene of Greenacre, and once more, to an extent at least, take up the reins of authority. Therefore, what is necessary in the way of taking her life's work, her own beloved Greenacre away from her and turning it over to Abdul Baha and God, must be done while she is still helpless to prevent it and unable to assert her rights. In other words, while she and her real friends are fighting for the complete recovery of her health, this "Holy War" for the seizure of this property must be rushed, "this wonderful opportunity must not slip out of the hands" of these people.

These proposed amendments which form an entirely new set of by-laws, eliminate Miss Farmer entirely from the whole situation both as to leadership and to property. Her name is not even given a complimentary notice in them.

Bahais, when asked how they ever could bring themselves to attempt such a dastardly outrage, proudly and lastly explain it with the following syllogism: If Abdul Baha wills it, God

Their Diverse Reports on Mexico Stirred Washington to Action.

It was the wide difference in the reports of conditions in Mexico made by Henry Lane Wilson, American ambassador to that country, and Francisco R. del Valle, who acted as Secretary of State Bryan's private envoy, that brought about President Wilson's active consideration of the Mexican situation. Ambassador Wilson's report favored the Huerta regime, while that of Del Valle's painted conditions in Mexico much worse than the ambassador admitted. It was conceded in Washington that the ambassador would not be allowed to return as representative of this country. In the snafus of these two principals Ambassador Wilson is on the left.

"I will it. If it is the will of Abdul Baha and God it should be the will of Miss Farmer; therefore it is perfectly holy and righteous trick to turn O. Religion, Religion, what crimes are still hatched up even in democratic enlightened America, in the name, especially where money is in sight. FRIENDS OF MISS FARMER AND FAIR PLAY. Gleason Brooks, wife and two children, of Washington, D. C., have arrived on a visit to his mother, Mrs. James Brooks.

Fred Staples, a navy yard employee, fell Thursday, fracturing a rib and receiving a serious shaking up.

Mrs. Benjamin Rowden returned home yesterday from a three week's visit in eastern Maine, being called there by the sickness which resulted in the death of a sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan of Melrose, Mass., have been the guests of Mr and Mrs. R. P. Dixon the past week.

It is expected that the Grangers will give a "horrible" parade and the members of "Sanbonnets" will occupy one train.

Dr. P. W. Abbott of Brandon, Mass., an old time teacher in our schools is expected to be one of the speakers on Wednesday, next.

Mrs. William L. Knight and baby daughter, Marion of Springfield, Mass., were calling on friends in town recently.

On Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Grange Hall the drama "Sanbonnets" will be given as part of the entertainment provided by John F. Hill Grange for Old Home Week. Charles W. Gray, the well known soloist and Lesni Baldwin of Boston will give vocal selections with instrumental accompaniments. The entertainment will be well worth attending.

CURRENT OPINION

RESTRICTION OF IMMIGRATION.

It is plain that several fundamental reforms must be had before the American wage-earner can be assured freedom of opportunity and the chance to work out the full measure of economic welfare which is his rightful heritage. Special privileges and monopoly rights arising from a protective tariff policy which have made possible a control of prices by a large group of manufacturers should be withdrawn by proper legislation. Corporations should also be prohibited from issuing worthless securities which cause an absorption of earnings through indefensible capital charges. A large share of the industrial output, which now goes into illegitimate dividend and interest payments, should be given to labor through higher rates of compensation or lower prices or articles of general consumption. To establish firmly an American standard of work and living, to guarantee a proper distribution of the benefits of our marvelous natural resources and our wonderful industrial progress, and, at the same time, to maintain the uprightness and the stimulation to industrial progress and efficiency, it is absolutely necessary to impose some limitations upon the numbers of immigrants who are rapidly entering the country.

Unless there is a restriction of immigration, the situation for the American industrial worker is without hope. A policy of permanent or absolute exclusion is not imperative. All that is essential is to limit temporarily the number of incoming aliens so that the foreign workmen already in our midst may be industrially assimilated and educated to the point where they will demand proper standards of living and will be constrained by the economic aspirations of the native American. . . . The real indication of material prosperity is to be found in the extent to which the wage-earners in mines and factories share in the industrial output which is partly attributable to their labors, and unless there is a limitation placed upon the inexhaustible supply of cheap foreign labor of low standards and aspirations which is now coming to this country, it is perfectly clear that the American wage-earner cannot hope to participate properly in the results of our industrial progress.

SUIT BROUGHT TO RECOVER FROM STATE

Forest Products Company Seeks Value of Land Taken in Crawford Notch.

Concord, N. H., August 1.—Allen Hollis as counsel for the Forest products committee has commenced proceedings to recover the value of land taken from the company in the acquisition of Crawford Notch, for which the state recently paid $62,000 to Leslie P. Snow of Rochester, counsel for Charles H. Morry.

When the commission appointed by the supreme court to determine the value of the land and timber taken under the right of eminent domain reported, awarding $72,000 to the Morry claimants, $72,000 to Abraham P. Stahl of Berlin and the Barron Hotel company, Governor Bass appealed from all three awards in the supreme court of Carroll county, which was pending, despite the settlements of the Morry claims made by the governor in the face of legal notice that the Forest Products company were the rightful owners of more than one half the land taken and that they would press the claim.

The failure of the attorney general to discharge the appeal has given counsel for the Forest Products Company an opening for the first move in a litigation which promises to be as long and expensive, as a motion to intervene in the three appeals which was filed with the clerk of the superior court for Carroll county in Oaspee today.

In the motion that the Forest Products company set up that they are the owners of what is commonly called the 3000 acre tract. In the southeasterly corner of the town of Livermore, on July 3, the company ascertained that the land taken by the state to secure Crawford Notch included a considerable portion of the tract named. The exact amount is not known but is believed to embrace an area of between 1000 and 2000 acres.

The company charges that without notice to them the commission appointed to assess damages awarded them in respect to land taken from the company to Messrs Morry and Stahl and the Barron Hotel Company, and that the latter claim that they were entitled to receive the entire award without regard to the rights of the Forest Products Company in the premises.

The company announces its willingness to waive its objection to the failure of the commission to give to it notice of the assessment provided that in the appeal of any other proceeding pending its rights may be ascertained and the damage to which it is entitled may be inserted and paid.

Reserving all its rights, however, the company moves that the damages to which it is entitled may be assessed by either jury in the appeals of the state of New Hampshire or in the appeal of some other land owner now pending.

The motion is preliminary to bringing an action, probably against the Governor, to recover the amount alleged to be due the Forest Products Company which he paid over to Leslie P. Snow, the attorney for Charles H. Morry after legal notice, was served on him that a large portion of the land alleged to be the property of Morry was in fact owned by the Forest Products Company and that its claim would be prosecuted (as an issue) in the courts.

Seasonal developments are expected as it is known that the Atty. General advised the payments unit (titles had been examined or that in the event payment was made the state should reserve an amount sufficient to protect itself against the claim of the Forest Products Company as well as those of other parties claiming to hold title in the disputed territory.

BRITISH VERSION

Visitor Anxious To See Our Great Drama, "Beating the Courts."

Not infrequently the visiting Englishman tackles American slang and when he has accumulated a mouthful, acquires a belief that he can shake it intelligible. Such a case happened last week at the Waldorf Astoria, New York. Eddie Glashen, who impersonates Beau Brummel at the information desk was taken back when a Briton approached the desk and thus addressed him:

"I say, can you tell me where they are playing this 'Beating the Courts'?" The information clerk scratched his head. What did you say the name was? he asked. "Beating the Courts," or something like that?"

The clerk hurriedly ran over the names of the few plays at the theatres.

"Oh, you mean 'Within the Law,' he suggested.

"By Jove, that's it," said the visitor.

BABY ABANDONED ON CONVENT STEPS—NO CLUE AS TO THE MOTHER

An infant baby boy was abandoned on the steps at the Convent of Mercy Austin street, late last night. The baby was discovered by Mrs. Frank Nichols, who lives directly across the street, shortly before twelve o'clock. Her attention being attracted by the child's cries. At the same time Dr. Heffenger's coachman, who was passing, discovered the bundle and took it over to Mrs. Nichols. The child was carefully wrapped up in a small blanket, and fully dressed in white clothing. There were no marks of identification on the clothing. The child was apparently about a month old and a very healthy baby. The Convent, at the present time, is closed and all of the Sisters are at Manchester, this fact probably being unknown to whoever placed the child on the steps. The police were notified and with investigation so far, were unable to locate anybody about the steps during the evening. The baby was taken in by Mrs. Nichols for the night. Some disposition will be made of it today.

with the banking interests which protested vigorously against the exclusively governmental feature of the control of the board.

Another important amendment incorporated in the bill altered the reserve section, conferring the power to require federal reserve banks to mutually redeem paper.

Change Made in Division of Earnings. A change was made in the division of the earnings of the federal reserve banks created by the law. Originally the banks were allowed a yearly cumulative dividend for five per cent and a surplus equal to these amounts.

reverted to the government. An amendment of the balance of earnings after the 5 per cent dividend and the 20 per cent surplus will be paid, 60 per cent to the government to be used as a sinking fund to reduce the national debt, and 40 per cent to be divided among the member banks in proportion to their balances in the federal reserve bank concerned.

Holding Period Reduced. In the reserve section the committee reduced the period during which a bank must hold a 25 per cent reserve against deposits from 26 months to 18 days. As finally passed the reserve section required that after a period of gradual changes, the country banks must keep their 15 per cent reserve either in their own vaults or in the federal reserve bank of the district in which it is located.

By a vote of seven to five the conference today struck from the bill a provision previously ordered inserted forbidding interlocking directorate between banks. It was struck out in representations that that the President believed it would be considered apart from general currency legislation.

The so-called insurgent amendments to the bill providing for currency on warehouse receipts for cotton, corn and wheat, were voted down today by a viva vote with little discussion.

Advisory Board Section. As finally incorporated in the bill the section creating the advisory board provided that "there is hereby created a federal advisory council, which shall consist of as many members as there are federal reserve districts."

"Each federal reserve bank by its board of directors shall annually select one member of said council who shall receive no compensation for his services, yet may be reimbursed for actual necessary expenses. The meetings of said advisory council, shall be held at Washington, D. C. at least four times each year, and after it called by the federal reserve board. The council may select its own officers and adopt its own method of procedure, and a majority of its members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Vacancies in the council shall be filled by the respective reserve banks, and members selected to fill vacancies shall serve for the unexpired term.

The federal advisory council shall have power (1) to meet and confer directly with the federal reserve board on general business conditions; (2) to make oral or written representations concerning the actions taken, proposed or contemplated by said board; (3) to call for complete information and to give advice concerning discount rates, re-discount business note issues, reserve conditions in the various districts, the purchase and sale of gold or securities by reserve banks, open market operations by said banks and the general affairs of the reserve banking system.

The hospital directors have been preparing to have Tag Day next Saturday and they are hoping for a pleasant day and large receipts. # ANOTHER OPERA REVOLUTION STARTED IN VENEZUELA

Caracas, Aug. 1.—In consequence of the outbreak of the revolution in Venezuela and the invasion of the country by forces under the leadership of former President Cipriano Castro, the Federal Council has constitutionally authorized President Juan Vicente Gomez to assume dictatorial powers until the movement is crushed.

The president announced today that all news of hostilities would be published, whether favorable or unfavorable to the Government. He says he feels he can safely do this because of his splendid army, and also because public opinion is with the Government. Telegraphic communication between the capital and the rest of the republic is maintained.

President Gomez has sent the following telegram to the governors of all the Venezuelan states: "General Cipriano Castro, impelled by ambition and the craze for power, has provoked a revolution in this republic, by ordering his partisans to arm themselves against the constitutional government. Already rebel forces in several localities have disturbed the public order. It is necessary for you to be alert and to act rapidly and energetically in assisting the Government to crush the rebels. The peace of the country, which conscientious Venezuelans are obliged to maintain, cannot be left at the mercy of adventurers who possess no idea of democracy. I trust you will fulfill your duty."

The governors in their replies promised unqualified support of the Government. Some of them requested the dispatch of additional arms and ammunition.

Corroboration of the report of General Castro's landing at Curu, Venezuela, was received from Puerto Cabello. General Simon Bolivar, Castro's brother-in-law, with a number of adherents, left there last night in a sloop with provisions on the way to Venezuela. Official dispatches state that an invading force from Colombia under the command of General Riosmena Gonzalez has been driven back steadily on the frontier of the State of Tachira, where Colonel Romero in command of the state troops, has forced the rebels to abandon their position. On the other side of Venezuela, revolutionists, commanded by a son of General Torres Castro, a brother of the former president, attacked the city of Maracaibo on Tuesday and were defeated by Government troops led by General Zayas. No troops have yet been sent from Caracas to meet the rebels, as the Government believes the state troops are strong enough to deal with them.

The advisers say that General Leon Jimenez, governor of the State of Falcon, who previously was reported to have been captured, escaped when the rebels attacked the city and fled to the interior of the country, but that the military authorities in Coro were arrested and imprisoned. From the State of Falcon, according to the reports received here, it is the purpose of the revolutionists to invade the State of Lara, which adjoins Falcon.

STILL FIGHTING IN BALKANS

Bulgars Said to Have Batten Greeks—Latter Lost 8000 Men in Recent Battle.

London, Aug. 1.—A despatch from Sofia says the Bulgarian military situation when the five days' armistice was arranged, was considered very favorable. The correspondent adds that it is reported that the Bulgarians have occupied Nevrokop, Rometia, whence the Greeks fled, and routed the Greek left wing in the Struma Valley and are believed to be advancing on Melnik, about fifteen miles southwest on Nevrokop. Equal forces have been employed for the first time by both sides in the recent battles.

Official dispatches received in Athens admit that a strong attack by the Bulgarians compelled the Greeks to retire to defensive positions on the heights in the neighborhood of Petchovo, Vukovitch and Kavitsa, in the claim that fresh Bulgarian attacks near Djumna, in Rometia, about 45 miles south of Sofia, were repulsed.

The correspondents with the Greek at Salonika describe the recent battle between the Greeks and Bulgarians in the Djumna district as the most hotly contested and sanguinary of the entire war. The Bulgarians, the correspondents say, reinforced by 50,000 men who had been withdrawn from the Serbian frontier, made an unexpected attack on the Greek left wing. The fight lasted for two days with varying success, but victory finally rested with the Greeks, who recaptured their lost positions. The Greek losses were 2000 men killed, including many officers bearing historic names and between 8000 and 7000 wounded.

WILL LURE MOSQUITOES TO DEATH WITH MUSIC

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 1.—The Atlantic County mosquito commission which has been granted a twenty-five thousand dollar appropriation, by the county board of freeholders to rid the county of mosquitoes, may try to lure the pests to death by musical vibrations generated by electricity.

According to information which the commission has received, Dr. L. O. Howard of the Federal department of Agriculture has discovered that the hum of the mosquito commonly attributed to the vibration of its wings is really caused by air expelled during the progress of respiration.

Dr. Howard believes that this hum could be imitated by electrical vibration, towards which mosquitoes are attracted themselves as if drawn by a powerful magnet. By attaching large strips of stick fly paper back of the vibrations of the insect, he predicted a deadly exterminator.

Dr. Howard is noted in the department of agriculture as an entomologist, and is the author of several studies of mosquito problems. The local commission has addressed an inquiry to him with the idea of adopting his plan if it proves practical.

FRANCIS B. SAYRE ON UNIFORM DESERTION LAW

Francis B. Sayre, one of the assistants in Dist. Atty. Whitman's office of New York City and who is to marry Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson in the Fall is strongly in favor of greater uniformity in the desertion laws of the different states. He has been making a close study on the laws on desertion and non-support since his promotion a short time ago to be chief of the Abandonment Bureau. He has already heard enough stories of family misfortune to make more than one man pause before entering upon matrimony, but the future son-in-law of the President of the United States, says that while sympathizing with the marital troubles of others, he is not anticipating any trouble in his own case.

Mr. Sayre's attention was called a few days ago to the efforts which have been made for several days to establish a uniform desertion act in the states of the Union. The act was drafted by the Commissioners on uniform state laws and it will form one of the topics of discussion at the commissioners in Montreal, beginning August 25. The law has been adopted by four states, Massachusetts, Kansas, Wisconsin and North Dakota, while many of its provisions such as that which allows the judge to suspend sentence and put the accused deserter of his family upon probation coming annual conference of the subject to his willingness to work and pay a portion of his earnings for his wife and family.

"It is an excellent idea," said Mr. Sayre, "for the state laws differ so greatly on this subject that it is often difficult to bring the offender back when he escapes to another state. Take the New York state law for instance, its worst feature is that if the husband leaves the city merely deserting his wife, he cannot be extradited, but if he deserts his children under 16 years of age, he can be brought back as a felon and sentenced to state prison."

The primary purpose of a desertion act, he takes it to be, is to bring about a condition whereby the deserted family may be supported. On the other hand, the New York law and similar ones exist in other states, forcing the court to lock up the man. In other words the effect is to compel him not to support his family and yet this is the very thing for which he is arrested.

The beauty of this uniform law is that it gives the judge a chance to substitute for imprisonment an order to pay a certain sum toward his family's maintenance, putting the man on probation under suspended sentence.

"That I believe we should go even further than this. I am heartily in favor of stringent divorce laws and also of stringent abandonment laws and if the husband who deserts his wife and children is to be locked up I do not see why the states should confiscate his earnings. The District of Columbia I think is the only section of the country which recognizes this principle and their desertion offenders are put to work on the roads under contract labor. It is all right for the state to retain a portion for the general maintenance of such offenders as prisoners, but everything over that should go to the family. This of course, would mean special legislation in the existing state laws but it would serve a beneficial purpose, in that, while punishing the family deserter, provision should be made at the same time toward supporting the family. If this were done I should strongly approve imprisoning the man who deserts his family, for every man whom arrest should thoroughly recognize the responsibilities of that act and the locking up a few men who run away from their family duties would set us a salutary example and through its force hold others up to a short realization of their duties."

FOUND 125 NEW PLANTS

Forest Service Field Men Are Studying Every Acre to Decide Its Value for Grazing.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Although the Forest Service does not include botany in its curriculum of conservation work, its field men in the past year have discovered 125 entirely new species of plants. This was incidental to investigations into the growth and forest value of plants in National forest reserves.

The service is seeking to determine the grazing value of every acre of land in the National forests. From this study the experts will decide whether a certain range is best suited to sheep, to cattle or to goats. Maps to be prepared from the data collected will show not only what kind of forage grows on various ranges, but at what time of year it is ready; also the spots where there is water supply.

And dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters cured the cause." J. H. Walker, Bunbury, O.

SALISBURY BEACH RAIDED BY WATCH AND WARD SOCIETY

Newburyport, July 31.—Ten alleged gambling machines were seized and taken into custody by representatives of the Watch and Ward Society at Salisbury Beach this afternoon. On complaint of this society summonses have been issued for 12 proprietors to whose beach establishments, the society claims games of chance the being played.

To Defend Owners
Attorney Walter Coulson, one of the three Salisbury associates that control the beach properties will defend the men summoned. The cases will be tried at the Newburyport District Court tomorrow morning.

J. H. Parker, W. T. Taylor and Arthur M. Stone, representatives of the society made a collective descent on all the amusement places today, seeking the violations of the anti-gambling law. They visited 20 places and in ten they found what they considered gambling machines. They claim that two other machines had such machines up to date, but in some manner knew of the intended visit of the society and removed them.

The raid caused considerable of a stir among the 10,000 people that were ashore about the beach. The business men affected by the raid are popular at this resort and have been at the beach for several years. Their defenders were incensed at what they termed unwarranted action on the part of the Watch and Ward Society.

WENT TO PORTSMOUTH

Stranger Confides in Officer His Trouble to Get a Drink.

Deputy Sheriff Aderton had an amusing experience last night, on the arrival of the Pullman train, when he was approached by a stranger who carried a bundle under his arm who inquired the way to an adjoining town. The man appeared much concerned about his bundle.

The deputy gave him the necessary information and off the man started. Later the officer ran across the man in another part of the town and was asked the same question. The stranger said he was anxious to reach his friends and had missed the route he had previously been given. He was again put on the right track and to show his appreciation offered Aderton a drink with the information that the man had been clear to Portsmouth, N. H., to make the purchase as he had been informed that the liquor deputies in Bath were making it difficult for anybody to bring any liquor into town, and the expense of the trip including the liquor, was over twelve dollars.

When Aderton showed his badge and informed the stranger that he was one of the deputies, the stranger, amply satisfied, and begged the officer to take the liquor as it was not intended for sale. He was allowed to go along and take his bundle.

The above is an illustration of some of the means taken by people to secure their supply of liquor.—Bath Times.

PRODUCERS OF "WITHIN THE LAW"

Offer Secretary of State $24,000 a Year as Press Agent.

New York, July 18, 1913.
Hon. W. J. Bryan, Washington, D. C.
Sir: If the newspapers are correct in quoting you as saying that your salary as Secretary of State is insufficient for your means, that you are therefore compelled to add to your income by "outside work," I beg leave to offer you a position that will pay you twice as much as the United States Government, and which will call for your undivided attention. In other words, I offer you $24,000 a year as Chief Publicity Promoter of "Within the Law." The position is one of importance, and like your present high office of world wide influence, for "Within the Law" is about to be presented not only in the United States, but in every civilized center of the world. The position is one that will call for the highest quality of intellect and resourcefulness, the combination for which we are willing to pay a good living wage. I am

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) ARCEL SELWYN,
Managing Director "Within the Law" Company.

ARMY SPOILS NAVY "SECRECY"

When the army and the navy recently agreed to conduct maneuvers in Long Island Sound for the purpose of testing the efficiency of the range and position finders and the shore searchlights, various newspaper correspondents and several other civilians applied for permission to witness the operations from the fleet. Mr. Vincent Astor was among the latter. Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Acting Secretary of the Navy, called upon the council of aids of the Navy Department for advice. It was agreed it would be a good practice to see if the operations could not be kept a profound secret with nothing leaking out for the benefit of foreign powers. The newspapers, Mr. Astor and the other applicants, were informed that no civilians could be received aboard. During the week of the war game the Navy Department then hastened to communicate its policy to the War Department, laying great stress upon the necessity of conducting the campaign with extreme secrecy so that its valuable results might inhere to the benefit of the American national defense alone. The army's reply came back.

"Very sorry. We would be glad to cooperate, but we've already invited all the foreign military attaches to witness the operations."

MAJOR RHODES LEAVES WASHINGTON

Former White House Aid Ordered to Winchester For Duty

Major Thomas L. Rhodes of the Medical Corps for several years chief military aid to the President, has been relieved from further duty in this city and ordered to Winchester, Va., for duty with the Provisional Cavalry Brigade. On the completion of that duty he will proceed to Philadelphia for duty at attending surgeon in that city.

Major Reuben R. Miller of the Medical Corps, stationed at Fort Wayne, Mich., but on duty with the second army division at Texas City, Tex., has been ordered to this city for duty as professor of sanitary chemistry at the army medical school, relieving Major Carl R. Darnall, who is ordered to the Philippines for assignment to duty.

SALISBURY SLOT MACHINES

Seven Men at the Beach Are in Court, Plead Not Guilty and Pay Fines of $5 Each.

Newburyport, Aug. 1.—In the Police Court today seven Salisbury Beach men were arraigned, charged with keeping gambling implements at their places at the beach, these being slot machines of various devices. Jere J. Sullivan, Frank P. Emmert, Lewis Newburg, Winslow Hardy, Carl Little John Sharkey, William Oullette pleaded not guilty and were fined $5 each which they paid.

The men were represented by Walter L. Coulson of Lawrence, one of the Salisbury Beach associates, the owners of the beach, while the case was prosecuted by John J. Storke of Boston, counsel for the Watch and Ward Society. The raids took place yesterday afternoon.

AFTER THE OCEAN DIP

The favorite sport of the summer girl is bathing. Pictures of her are everywhere clad in the smartest of bathing frocks, her head covered with a most becoming cap. Usually she is stretched gracefully on the sand watching the other bathers, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

The unfortunate part of these pictures is that they are scarcely true to life for if the bathing girl does stretch on the sand, especially after her swim she does not remain beautiful for a long time.

The average girl does not wish to be trailed from her personal appearance, by wearing one of those close-fitting little caps, which cover every particle but they are invaluable to the really good swimmer who is under water almost as often as out of it.

If the hair should become wet all the salt should be washed out at once and whether the hair becomes wet in bathing or not, the hair should be washed once a week while in the salt air. This is very important as salt is harmful and has ruined many a fine head of hair. The skin also needs extra attention in the bathing season. The swimmer should never linger after her dip on the sand in the sunshine if she values a good complexion. The salt on the skin combined with the sun's rays, will form a crust as it burns, which will cause the skin to toughen, ruining any delicate complexion on she may have.

A deep tan seems to be the chief idea that many girls hold of a fine vacation. If they have regular dark tan their vacation has been wholly successful, otherwise it is not quite so. If these girls only realized how ugly this tan will become as it dies away into a pale yellow they would never be so anxious to acquire a tan. Moreover the hardening and roughing of the skin always attendant on a tan will ruin the most delicate complexion.

The best way to avoid this is to go straight from the sea to a tub of fresh water.

GRIT.

That's it! You're not worth a bit. You prove that you're fit. To be where the real men—the "Ever Drives" sit.

Four years spent at college. May stuff you with knowledge. Your arms may be strong. But unless you're a slayer, A thoroughbred player, You're all wrong.

It's the stoker Who kicks the man who is quicker Who conquers in battle, His brain never rattles, Like a bound with his fangs on the quarry, he hangs on. It's game to the finish, His hopes won't diminish, He knows he can win, And in time to get in.

WILL RECOMMEND FOUR BATTLE- SHIPS BE BUILT

Washington, Aug. 1.—That Congress at its next session authorize the construction of four new battleships of the largest type, sixteen torpedo boat destroyers and a large number of colliers, oilers and other auxiliaries is understood to be the recommendation of the General Board of the Navy. The Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Josephus Daniels, has made no public announcement of his views on naval increase thus far but is inclined to ask Congress to authorize three new battleships. One of these, he believes, should be built at Government navy yards, Battleship No. 39, the last authorized, is to be built at the New York yard.

Since coming into control of the House of Representatives the Democratic party has prevented the authorization of more than one new battleship. This was largely due to the hostility of the "pork seekers," who preferred appropriations for post-offices and custom houses to strengthening of the national defense. Mr. Bryan's peace propaganda has also had a deterrent effect on Democratic defense legislation, but it is noticeable that since the Japanese controversy became acute, the Mexican affair more critical and the Senate indisposed to ratify the arbitration treaties Mr. Bryan has talked less about "friendship" and fellowship as substitutes for battleships. President Wilson has never committed himself to Mr. Bryan's "little navy" views.

NO MORE RIFLES TO BE CONDEMNED

Washington, Aug. 1.—The present model of rifle used by the United States Army should have a life of usefulness of at least 10 years, in the opinion of the ordnance officers, and a determined effort is being made to prevent the condemnation of thousands of rifles that are turned in as worn out, when they are really serviceable. A circular issued today declares that one of these rifles should be capable of firing 8000 to 10,000 rounds before becoming so worn as to become inaccurate.

Many of the rifles turned in as unserviceable are found to have become so more through want of careful cleaning and through the use of abrasives than by reason of the actual number of rounds fired. Therefore, it has been ordered that such guns as are worn at the muzzle, with barrels rusted or pitted, a sign that they have not been properly treated, shall be tried out by expert riflemen and not condemned unless they show marked accuracy at the targets.

Today is Newmarket Day at Hampton Beach and the greater part of the population of that town are at the seashore.

WELL DESERVED

The Prize That Comes From Thankful Portsmouth People.

One kidney remedy has known merit. Portsmouth people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Portsmouth testimony proves it reliable.

Arion A. Ballou, machinist, 378 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I think as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I first used them. For some time my kidneys were out of order and caused my back to become very lame and painful. I finally got so bad that I could not attend to my work, as my sudden movement sent sharp twinges through my body. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Philbrick's Drug Store, came to my relief and I have had practically no trouble from my kidneys since using them. Whenever I hear anyone complaining of backache, I advise a trial of Doan's Kidney Pills and know of several persons who have acted on my suggestion and have been benefited."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

PORTSMOUTH'S ATTRACTION TO THE SUMMER VISITOR.

Editor The Herald—As a mark of respect to the summer visitors, why can't Green street be put in a sanitary condition? It seems a pity that people arriving from New Castle, Kittery, York and the Isles of Shoals should see the city at its very worst. Streets adjacent to the landing are littered with filth that has been accumulating for an indefinite extent of time. Wouldn't it be well for the city fathers to look into this matter and see if some action can't be taken to make the waterfront, which was formerly Portsmouth's pride, be more of a beauty spot and at least clean and sanitary?

HOSPITAL TAG DAY NEXT SATURDAY

The annual tag day for the benefit of the Portsmouth Hospital will be held on Saturday, August 3.

This scheme for making money for the current expense of this institution was inaugurated several years ago, and has been carried out with varying success each year.

The Portsmouth Hospital does a vast amount of good each year, and is not self-supporting. During the present year the hospital has had many expenses and is badly in need of money. The management of the hospital is now such that nobody can find any fault, and Mrs. Ramsey, the present superintendent since taking charge has made many friends by her uniform courtesy and attention to her duties.

In the Portsmouth Hospital Portsmouth has a worthy institution, and one if it were taken away would make our citizens feel keenly its many benefits.

It is up to our citizens to respond liberally next Saturday and make the hospital tag day of 1913 a record breaker. If everyone contributes his or her mite to the worthy cause, a handsome sum will be realized for the cause.

Will you do your part?

OBSEQUES

William T. Meloon.

The funeral services of William T. Meloon were held at his late home in New Castle this Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and were largely attended.

Rev. William P. Stanley, pastor of the Middle street Baptist church, officiated, assisted by Rev. C. A. Parker. Each of the clergymen paid a fitting tribute to the sterling worth of the deceased.

The members of Wentworth Lodge, No. 22, Knights of Pythias, attended in a body and delegations were present from Oak Castle, K. G. O., and Seaside Chapter, Jr. O. U. A. M. Burial was in Riverside cemetery under the direction of H. W. Nickerson. At the grave the officers of Wentworth Lodge performed the Pythian burial service.

The pall bearers were Zachariah Randall, Thomas Jackson, Albert H. Blackford, John Blackford.
